

Energy Savings Plan: Comfort Club v. Tune-Ups

Be Comfortable

You've heard it all:

maintenance plan, seasonal check, tune-up, annual inspection...along with any other names HVAC companies use to describe their options for various checks on your equipment. You understand that maintaining your heating & a/c equipment is important for the lifespan of the unit, increases efficiency, & helps lower costs (through energy bills & inevitable repairs). Now, the question is...

Which choice is right for you?

Howell's has two of these types of services, but we can't make the decision for you—here's a little information that might help:

TUNE-UP

is best described as a one-time, quick visual inspection that gives you a better idea of your equipment's current status — we'll recommend any additional work that you might elect to have done to keep your unit running as efficiently as possible.

COMFORT CLUB: Energy Savings Plan

is a full-on maintenance plan that we use to keep your equipment in top shape & running smoothly, with extra perks that come with membership. In the long run, this plan is an owner's best choice to reduce breakdowns, save more money, and worry less!
